

ADSCAPE 2017

Recruiting advertising's next generation of talent at the high-school level

AdScape is an unforgettable educational and motivational day-long program designed to give creative high school students an insider's view of advertising, and to promote cultural diversity in the advertising industry.

This event is hosted by Radford University and will uncover some of the exciting career opportunities to be found in the advertising and marketing fields, and put students in hands-on workshops such as 3D animation, broadcast media, branding, social media, audio/video production, digital media, and commercial photography. All workshops are being presented by leading area professionals in their field.

AdScape has been nationally recognized multiple times by the American Advertising Federation for Club Achievement in Diversity and Education and with a prestigious Mosaic Award in 2016. Mosaic Awards recognize companies, agencies and individuals who show a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Your sponsorship helps to continue to make AdScape a free program for area high school students to attend. We hope that you will consider partnering with us to help continue to make this event a huge success. Thank you for your consideration.
